We Learn to Succeed

As we continue with the national lockdown with all of us slowly adjusting to life in this unprecedented and slightly unusual period, we would like to take this opportunity to thank you all for the hardwork you are doing, both as frontline key workers and those parents who are at home helping their children with their learning.

It has been lovely to hear from so many families over the past few weeks about what you have been doing at home, so many of you have been working together as families to complete not only the school work set, but you have also taken part in other types of learning e.g. baking, dancing, gardening and even exercising by jumping on the trampoline!

Please do continue to support your children with their learning, in as many ways as possible and continue to share these with us. The teachers have really enjoyed finding out what the children have been taking part in via your emails and also through work, photographs and videos we have shared on twitter! We have received great feedback relating to the weekly challenges and we will continue to update these alongside home learning information on a weekly basis.

If you are experiencing any problems that you think we can help you with, our office is always open, from 8am until 1.30pm—you can leave a message if there is no answer or you can email us on info@hortonparkacademy.co.uk. Our website also contains useful information for you too.

As always, we are here to support you and your child in any way possible!

COVID-19: Latest Information

Following the government's announcement on Sunday 10th May 2020 of plans to ease some of the lock-down restrictions, and in particular to consider the re-opening of schools across selected year groups. We are awaiting further information from the government about what this means for our school, in collaboration with our trust and also the local authority.

In the meantime, nothing has changed and we will provide further information in the coming days. We will also continue to serve the children of critical workers and vulnerable pupils. Thank you for your continued support!
